The stress of the pandemic is weighing heavily on health care workers at all levels and in all disciplines. COVID-19 requires attention from everyone, including the housekeeper to the CEO because we are all at risk from a personal and professional standpoint.

To support infection preventionists, Alliant will begin hosting COVID Office Hours - IP Chats beginning September 22, 2021 at 2 p.m. EST. These will occur every Wednesday and provide up-to-date resources and sharing of best practices and barriers for infection preventionists.

Alliant is aware that infection preventionists (IP)s are under additional pressure to ensure the organizations they serve are aware and responding to ever-changing requirements. In rural and critical access hospitals, many IP(s) are working in roles with limited time and availability to stay up-to-date on the pertinent information needed to implement effective control measures, as well as new information as science evolves.
