

WHY I GOT VACCINATED

Administrators and staff at Memphis Jewish Home in Tennessee shared their personal stories regarding their motivation to become vaccinated. The facility includes a large campus of around 300 staff who are nearly 80% vaccinated.

"At first I wasn't sure but then I spoke to my family. This is new and scary and I want to protect myself and my parents."

"To rejoice with loved ones, family and friends, like COVID never existed!"

"I'm only one person, but I need to be a part of the solution to fix the problem. I want to protect my elderly mother and teenage daughter."

"I've already received the vaccine because I believe in science."

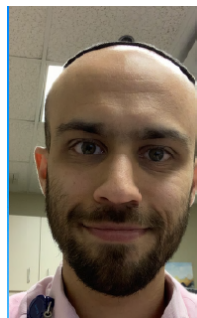

"I've already had the virus and I don't want to go through this again."

"To protect my 4-year-old daughter who looks up to me."

"I'm a high risk. I want to protect myself, the residents, my coworkers and my family."

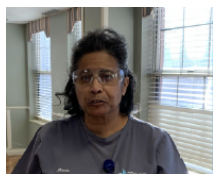

"So my parents can hug their grandson."

"To save a life. To protect my coworkers. To be a part of the solution, not the problem."

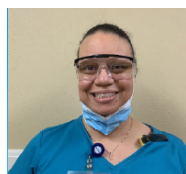

"At this point it's scary, people are getting sick so quickly. It's my responsibility as a frontline worker to receive it."

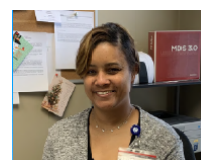

"I'm gonna do it as soon as I can. This is the best way to ward off the virus."

"It's what I've been waiting for and I believe it will fight the virus and keep everyone safe."

"As a leader I have the responsibility for being proactive to prevent the spread of the virus."

"For the residents, for my children, and for my elderly father who hasn't been able to visit since this has all started."
