PARTNERSHIP FOR COMMUNITY HEALTH AND NURSING HOME SERIES:

Maximize Chronic Disease Management with Medical Nutrition Therapy for Nutrition- Related Health Conditions

Thursday, November 30, 2023
12:30-1 p.m. EST / 11:30-12 p.m. CST

SUMMARY:

This webinar will highlight how medical nutrition therapy (MNT) can be an effective tool to address nutrition-related health conditions, prevent the development of chronic diseases, and manage complications to slow the progress of existing chronic diseases among various patient populations across the care continuum.

IN THIS EVENT, WE WILL:

1. Learn the essentials of an MNT visit and the referral process.
2. Recognize how MNT can alleviate health care costs associated with health conditions such as diabetes, chronic kidney disease, cardiovascular disease and obesity.
3. Learn how to educate patients, care partners, community members and colleagues on the benefits of MNT provided by registered dietitian nutritionists to manage their chronic conditions and maintain wellness.
